

HEWI Heinrich Willke GmbH, Prof.-Bier-Str. 1-5, 34454 Bad Arolsen, Germany, (hereinafter referred to as „HEWI“) grants the user and its affiliated companies or group companies and cooperation partners the simple, non-transferable right to use the data records provided by HEWI, including product texts, photographs and other graphic illustrations, for the purpose of presenting their own offers for the relevant HEWI products in accordance with this agreement, in particular to publish, reproduce and make them publicly accessible.

In addition, HEWI permits the user and its affiliated companies or group companies as well as cooperation partners to transfer the data records provided by HEWI, including product texts, photographs and other graphic images, to its cooperation partner for the purpose of selling HEWI's products which are purchased by the user's cooperation partner via the user. The design also applies to users who pursue editorial or press-related purposes with the use.

The user - insofar as and to the extent that they are not pursuing any editorial or press-related purposes with the use - undertakes to obligate their cooperation partners in each case to refrain from changing, supplementing or redesigning the data records received, including product texts, photographs and other graphic illustrations, in whatever form, to third parties without the prior written consent of HEWI.

Furthermore, the user undertakes - unless and insofar as they are not pursuing editorial or press-related purposes with the use - to refrain from such use without prior written permission from HEWI, unless they are expressly permitted to do so within the scope of this agreement. The user - insofar as and to the extent that they are not pursuing any editorial or press-related purposes with the use - undertakes, in the event of the termination of the cooperation with HEWI, to immediately delete all data records made available by HEWI within the framework of this agreement, including product texts, photographs and other graphic images, without delay, i.e. without culpable hesitation, and to delete them in such a way that they cannot be restored and not to retain any copies of the data.
